***Important Information: 1. If well was drilled after January 1987, Missouri Law requires that it be permitted through the Department of Natural Resources. Each well must be certified and registered as meeting established minimum construction standards. The law is intended to prevent contamination of the State's groundwater from poorly constructed water wells. 2. Franklin County does not inspect wells, but failure to meet standards set by Department of Natural Resources (DNR) could affect any future loans on the property.
